

It's Time for...

Yearbook Boot Camp

Need that little extra something to make this year's book truly unique? You'll find it at Taylor's one-day Yearbook Boot Camp, September 12, from 9:00 a.m. until 3:00 p.m. Sessions include planning for content coverage, learning what the pros know in layout and design, capturing the best in your photos with expert cropping techniques, and making sense of yearbook terminology. Specialized sessions for photographers require these photojournalists to bring either a digital camera or a traditional camera with a roll of film, and any problem pictures taken so far this year. Make sure the camera has good batteries (an extra set never hurts)!

This workshop is for all yearbook staff members and advisers. There is NO charge for the workshop and no RSVP is required. Simply come with pen and paper for notetaking and jotting down lots of ideas to make your 2010 yearbook the best ever. If you have any questions or need additional information, please call your Taylor representative or Chris Cox at 214-443-6353.
